

BUSINESS PERSONAL
FINANCIAL

December 2018

Volume 25, Issue 4

DDM Gets Into The Holiday Spirit

Again this year, DDM Insurance is jumping into the holiday spirit to provide two local charities with much needed funds and supplies to brighten the holidays for some families in our area.

First, we have a collection underway at our office for the Laurel Pregnancy Center. LPC provides supplies, such as diapers, clothing, and bath items, for new parents and babies. Stop in our office to drop off supplies in our collection box.

Additionally, DDM is sponsoring the children at the Frances Fuchs Early Childhood Center located in Beltsville. The school provides programs for pre-K children with special needs. Our staff is purchasing gifts for twenty children at the school.

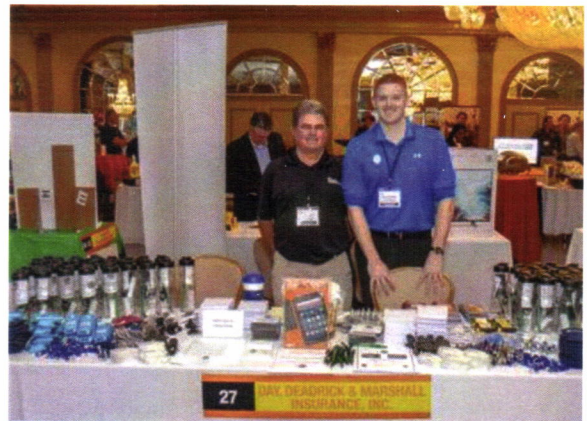

We invite all of our clients and insurance company partners to join in the DDM holiday spirit by stopping by with your donation.

It means a lot to us to support these great local programs.

The deadline for all donations is Friday, 14 December.

DDM Participates In WMDA Expo

DDM Insurance is a proud partner and member of the local trade association WMDA/CAR Service Station and Automotive Repair Association. This October, two of our producers attended their Expo in Baltimore in an effort to meet new members, hear from new prospective customers, and learn more about the industry.

Matt Deadrick and Darrell Diehl have attended the convention the last five years, and it has grown exponentially each year.

We held a drawing and awarded a door prize of an Amazon Fire Tablet, and the lucky winner was Sarah Hopkins.

Our agency has very competitive markets which offer comprehensive insurance programs for these types of businesses- but it is just one of many ways that DDM aims to help business owners understand their commercial insurance exposures.

Give us a call if you think your business insurance could use a tune-up!